

Access to Zinio Downloadable Magazines

Zinio is a company that provides downloadable magazines. As a Blue Earth County Library user, you now have access to subscriptions for you to download to your PC, laptop, or mobile device for free. When you download an issue, it is yours to keep as long as you wish (no returns necessary), and there is no limit to the number of library users who can checkout the current issue at any time. However, at this time, only the most current issue is available to you, so you will want to check the site often to not miss any issues.
